Norfolk County Health Unit Report

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Health for Board meeting on October 23rd, 1957.

The Unit is still in the position of being set up and is seriously handicapped by office congestion, lack of facilities and lack of completion of carpentry and painting work etc. It has also been handicapped by flu affecting the one stenographer and two of the public health nurses to date. This report is therefore, of necessity sketchy because the Unit is handicapped by being forced to combine the processes of giving some service with setting up the Unit administratively.

1. SANITARY INSPECTION

The Chief Health Inspector visited many facilities in the County including Simcoe sometimes in the company with the Medical Officer of Health, sometimes not. Facilities inspected were dairies, sewage treatment plant, water works, garbage dumps and so on. Numerous requests for assistance have come in and have been dealt with wherever possible. The Chief Health Inspector has also worked with a representative of the Ontario Water Resources Commission.

Arrangements were made by the Chief Health Inspector to cover the Ploughing Match in the Tented City and to control sanitary problems arising. This was an extremely time consuming effort considering the shortness of notice. Dr. Raymond from the Brant County Health Unit and Health Inspector Elly of the Elgin-St. Thomas Health Unit came down and helped. It point up the necessity for additional Sanitary Inspectors to be appointed in the area. The Ploughing Match insofar as sanitary control is concerned went over very smoothly.

2. SCHOOL HEALTH

Medical Inspection of school entrants was commenced last week with St. Stephen's School in Houghton. Children were examined by the Medical Officer of Health and immunized and parents advised. Any deviations from normal were referred to the general practitioner. All schools have been visited by the nurses, and the teachers interviewed. Fifty-eight children were given special inspection by the nurses, two hundred and fifty-eight classrooms were seen rapidly by the nurses for obvious signs of infection. Twenty children were excluded from school because of pediculosis and their parents instructed regarding treatment. Seven children were found to have defective vision and the parents were advised to refer them to their doctor. 126 children have been tested for visual acuity.

The Chief Health Inspector has spent one morning with each nurse visiting representative schools in the different school districts to get some idea of the task involved with respect to their supervision.

HOME VISITS

In August and September, the Public Health Nurses visited one hundred and fifty-eight families throughout the County. These visits were made on behalf of 137 infants, 20 pre-school children and 20 school children, 7 adults and 16 pre-natal cases. Three visits were made to TB suspects and one venereal disease suspect.

MEETINGS, CONFERENCES ETC.

The Public Health Nurses made 157 calls on reeves, town clerks, councillors etc. They have attended 20 teachers' meetings and addressed them briefly, most times in the company of the Nursing Supervisor, occasionally by themselves, on one occasion accompanied by the Medical Officer of Health. The nurses were invited to attend four township council meetings and did so. The Supervisor of Public Health Nurses and the Chief Health Inspector visited the Oxford County Health Unit at Woodstock and also the Laboratory at the Ontario Hospital. The Medical Officer of Health, the Supervisor of Public Health Nurses and the Chief Health Inspector attended a Norfolk County Medical Society Dinner Meeting at Port Dover and addressed the doctors on the Health Unit and also a meeting of the Middleton Township Council together with the Public Health Nurse Miss Stover. Three senior members of the staff have spent one day in Toronto so far discussing problems with directors of various divisions of the Ontario Health Department; they will be spending one day in St. Catharines, this is to-morrow, discussing procedures, forms, techniques and set-ups with the St. Catharines - Lincoln Health Unit. They will be spending another day this week in Toronto discussing problems with Health Department officials and probably another day next week.

Apart from the above, numerous contacts have been made with organizations such as the Children's Aid Society, the Rotary Club, Lions Club and Kinettes,

High School Principal, Department of Education Inspectors and so on. Public Health Nursing Staff has at present five speaking engagements to be filled at Home and School Meetings and the Medical Officer of Health has one coming up shortly.

Respectfully submitted,

(signed) J. R. MAYERS, M.D., B.S., D.P.H.,

Medical Officer of Health
